This is key to a new perception of preventative medicine.

- The energy levels within the meridians show, whether organs are weak.
- The background for illnesses can be evaluated, e.g. if there is a psychological factor behind it.
- The extreme measuring precision of the instrument gives you the possibility to test the efficiency of medication and its side effects. You have a chance to balance the side effects !
- Quick and easy measuring – maximum 5 minutes ! In depth training through ETRE.

New patient requests - the vitality practice

Just feeling o.k., as most people comment upon questions about their wellbeing, is not good enough any more. There is a desire to achieve better health and quality of life.

Practitioners should adapt to these new demands for the health market. A shift towards preventative and energy medicine gives an interesting opportunity. Furthermore, your clients will change – healthier people are happier and less stressful for you and your personnel.

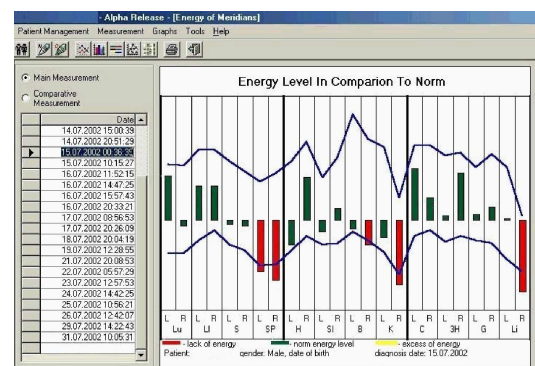

Have a look at existing vitality practices. People are willing to pay for better analysis and treatments – the result counts ! You will feel a positive impact on your revenues, as well.

Utilise the rising awareness of your patients by applying ETRE technology. Based on an approved medical instrument we developed an intelligent measuring device. As we managed to achieve excellent value-for-money, the BIOENERGYREADER can be utilised by smaller practices as well.

Benefits for your patients

Energy deficits – quite common in modern society – will be displayed on the print-outs. The willingness to book efficient treatments or seminars rises dramatically. The result of the treatments can be shown by making another test right after the first treatment !

ETRE supports you and your staff. We train your personnel in the use of the instrument, its interpretation and how to treat specific issues. Furthermore we deliver a comprehensive handbook and you may utilise our telephone hotline, if questions arise.
