ETRE DETOXSUITE

Pleasant Detoxification and Relaxation.

The components OXYGENWATER and VITALRESONANCE

As a preparation for the detoxification your guests receive OxygenWater as a 'solvent' for the process. Right afterwards, they lie down onto the upholstered VITALRESONANCE-bench for a 10-15 min treatment. VITALRESONANCE is based on the application of pulsating electromagnetic fields which stimulate body cells for self-regeneration and detoxification.

Combined with the integrated MENTALRELAX-system your guests will find peace of mind, very quickly. The option to mix its soothing tones with relaxing music shows the refinement of the system.

The component THERMORELAX

The next application takes place on our exclusive THERMORELAX marble benches. It is amazing how people perceive the soft touch of the natural material.

In the DetoxSuite, the ThermoRelax marble is being heated up to a level of maximum 45 degrees Celsius. There are three different temperature zones, e.g. to keep a 'cool head'. The heated neck roll takes away the stress of the day. Infrared radiators made out of the same noble material create a special climate. The emission of soft infrared radiation opens up skin pores. It stimulates the skin to 'exhale' toxins without having to apply the brutal heat of a sauna. Blood circulation and cell breathing are improved. The soothing effect of the crystalline material – equal to that of some healing stones - adds to its efficiency.

The light component

Light can stimulate another part of the body's own detoxification network: the lymphatic system. The quality of the specific wavelength has to be met exactly. Our high-tech evaporation production guarantees this requirement – for the well-being of your guests.

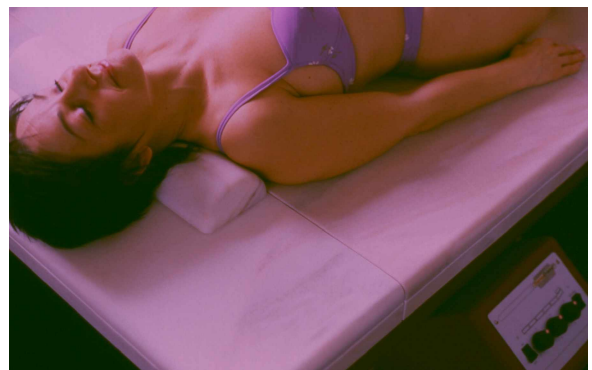

The music component

By analogy, science has found wavelengths in music that equate to certain wavelengths of light. Classic composers have created wonderful 'colour light music' for relaxation purposes. Simply enjoy ...

Primary utilisation

Wellness hotels, detox clinics, but also as a small version from about 6 square meters for application in private wellness areas.

Soothing detoxification and relaxation...
